Notes for JOHN BAPTIST ARMSWORTHY:

AN ARTICLE PREPARED BY AMERICAN FAMILY MEMBERS STATES:

The Armsworthy family in America originates from within the oldest county in Maryland, St. Mary's. The county was formed in 1637.

Armsworthy is of English descent having crossed over to America in 1681.

A John Armsworthy was transported in 1681 to Maryland. The Maryland Calendar of Wills for 1703-1713 has an abstract for John Armsworthy whose Will was probated on 23 April 1707. It lists his wife , Mary and sons John and Thomas.

These two sons are then listed in the book Chronicles of St. Mary's County, Book Two , with the last name of Armsworthy and their birth years listed as 1679 and 1689, respectively.

If John Armsworthy is the husband of Mary and the father of John and Thomas then John was born in England and Thomas was born in Maryland. There may have been more children born to John and Mary.

No early genealogy has been found for this family and from all appearances only a single person with last name in this country during the 1600' and 1700's.

No other wills were found in the Maryland Calendar of Wills for the Armsworthy's during the 1700's.

The name itself, Armsworthy, has survived to this day with a single variation. The Ohio, Indiana and Illinois branches of the family have dropped the "Y" and the name has become Armsworth. For the most part the other branches still uses the Armsworthy spelling.

A possible branch of the family that settled in Ross County, Ohio may have adopted the name "Armsey" instead of Armsworthy.

The Ross County, Ohio courthouse records has shown the name Armsworthy, Armsworth badly misspelled and even shorten to Armsey or Armsby. But in the end the Armsworth spelling has survived in the mid-western states.

Assuming that John Armsworthy was the originator of this family in America then his two sons, John and Thomas, would naturally be the second generation of Armsworthys.

Part of the fourth generation is found in the church records for St. Andrew's Episcopal Church 1744-1916 listed in the Chronicles of ST. Mary's Book Two

These records list James, John, Jonathan, William, Abraham and George Armsworthy along with their wives and some of their children.

NOVA SCOTIA

Baptist Armsworthy was one of the settlers of Guysborough Co. Nova Scotia, Canada, who came as a result of his service with the Duke of Cumberland's Regiment (Lord Montague). In the American War of Independence Baptist fought on the side of the American Revolutionists. On 22 April, 1777 he joined the 3rd Maryland of Line Regiment as a private, Capt-Lieut Armstrong's Company, 1777-1780. The Reg't was commanded by Major Archibald Anderson. After the Battle of Camden, South Carolina, 16 August 1780, he was reported missing. He was released from prison at Charleston on 10 February 1781. He then enlisted in the British Army as a private with His Royal Highness, the Duke of Cumberland's Regiment of the Carolina Rangers for service in the West Indies and possibly Florida.

He was discharged on 20 June 1784 at Chedabucto, Nova Scotia.

He received 1 town lot SE1#19 and 100 acres of rear lands at Guysborough Co., NS in August, 1790.

In 1791 and 1792 it is recorded he paid poll tax in the amount of 10 British Pounds.

"And from the Maryland archives records of a Council meeting Friday 23 December, 1791:

The Auditor General is requested to issue a Certificate of Depreciation to John Baptist Armsworthy late a private in the Maryland line enlisted the 22nd April 1777 and mustered missing the 16 August 1780--supposed (pg 19) dead---and the said Auditor is also requested to deliver the same to the Treasurer of the Western Shore which he is hereby ordered to pay to Henry MacPherson in virtue of a power of Attorney from Aithalia Armsworthy who appears to be the sister and next of kin to said John Baptist Armsworthy." This confirms a sister who apparently considered John Baptist dead and had applied for a 'pension settlement' . It would seem she did not know he was alive and well in Nova Scotia, or did she! Did brother and sister ever communicate? GES.

Note: June 16, 2001, Linda Shea advised that Aleathia Armsworthy married Bennet Newgent/Nugent on January 14, 1707 in St Mary's Co., Maryland USA.

FROM A COUSIN IN THE USA

My 5th-great grandfather enlisted in the 3rd Maryland at the tender age of 13, and was captured by the British during the battle of Camden, S.C. He was held prisoner in Charleston, either in the Old Fort dungeon and in a prison ship in the harbor. While there, he was recruited by Lord Montagu to join a Corps in fighting in Jamaica against the pirates and Spanish. Montagu must have made quite an impression on young Baptist, for he not only took the Oath, and fought with Montagu's Corps, but when the time came to lay down arms, he decided to emigrate to Nova Scotia, Canada with Montagu, rather than return home. I am still looking for a source to indicate his rank/function. From his age at the time, I suspect he was a drummer or a runner, but I have been unable to find any records of his service. Thank you for your kind attention, Jake Foley

Notes for MARY MASS:

I have spelled the surname as MASS as Jost did in his book. Other records indicate it was spelled Moss. Other families named Moss lived in the area. I had always felt Mass probably was of French origin. Now I am not so sure. There were settlers in the area of German descent and some inter-married with members of the Armsworthy family. Recently I discovered that MASS is also the German word for 'litre' as in a litre of milk or other liquids. No other reference is found at this time of the origins of Mary Mass of Guysborough, Nova Scotia.

Children of JOHN ARMSWORTHY and MARY MASS are:

Notes for BENNETT NUGENT:

Notes for BENNETT NUGENT:

The Nugent's whose name is found both on the Silver Creek church roll, and some of the tombstones here, are originally from Maryland. From Maryland they came to Kentucky in an early day. Three brothers came from Kentucky to Indiana, and settled @t Springville. The elder of these three brothers was a wheelwright by trade, but he soon died. His brother, John R. then took possession of his shop, and continued the business for a number of years. John R, giving up the occupation of wheelwright, turned his attention to farming, and finally bought the farm where Mr. George Nugent, his son, now lives. Here he reared quite a large family, of whom are Conner, Thomas, Clayborn, Jefferson, George and Richard.

Bennett Nugent, one of the three brothers, settled on a farm where now is the village of Bennetsville. He 16d out this town, and it was named for him. He followed fam-@ng, trading, and merchandising. He was the father of Andrew and Ross Nugent. Lydia Nugent, the wife of Bennett Nugent, appears on the church roU of Silver Creek church as early as 1816.

John R. Nugent and his wife are buried here. Bemett Nugent and his wife are buried near Bennetsvifle.

Notes for JOHN JAMES ARMSWORTHY:

1901 census: Crowe Harbour. Fisherman. Baptist.

Uncle John Armsworthy. My Uncle John was a long_time, outstanding community figure. He had married my father's sister, Alma, nearly fifty years earlier, and they had a very large family, mostly grown up by the twenties. This large family, in their turn, had many other large families, and so on.

Which is quite beside the point here. .

Uncle John had high visibility whenever fishing or other community activities took place. He continued to tend his nets and was a regular trap crewman in my father's enterprise long into his seventies. He had one 'game' leg, caused when a heavy stone rolled against him during the one and only attempt at gold mining in our village, and there is just that chance that he never received medical attention for it. He used a pet expression, 'ness', which may have been a variation of yes, or just a random syllable. As he yarned on to the neighbours at their fishstores, or in their work crews, the nesses came forth at regular intervals. Small wonder he came to be called "Old Ness", always kindly meant and behind his back, of course.

Before the inshore fishing rights were taken away from the American fishermen a long time ago, their crews presented a ~ough and ready rivalry among local fishermen. Shades of John Paul Jones of another era! (He had raided the east coast ports of Canso and Crow Harbour, during the Revolutionary War-Jost: pp. 98-103). Uncle John told with relish of the argument he had had in his youth with one over-zealous Gloucesterman, who had come ashore to pillage the clam flats at the mouth of a brook close by the present cemetery property. In brief, the Yankee lost that argument and, in the process, one ear, bitten off by the victorious Uncle John. He abounded in tales of his unusual experiences, and offered them freely on any occasion. Ness. He put aside his oars for keeps in 1940, at the ripe old age of 97.
